Let's look at some results

$$\mathbf{CTR} = \text{Click-Through Rate} = \frac{\text{Clicks}}{\text{Impressions}}$$

$$\mathbf{CVR} = \text{Conversion Rate} = \frac{\text{Conversions (Installs)}}{\text{Clicks}}$$

Test #1

Audience Appeal

Hypothesis

Colonel Mustard will be more appealing to our audience (females 25+) than Mrs. White.

Mustard

-36% CTR

+0% CVR

Mrs. White is more relatable to our female audience

Test #2

Visual Design

Hypothesis

A darker background will make the colorful game pieces “pop” more to attract more attention.

Dark Board

-11% CTR

+31% CVR

Dark board was less inviting, but why did conversions go up?

The ad coordinated with App Store screenshots

+53% CVR

We started using the lighter board in ads and screenshots

Test #3

Topical Relevance

Hypothesis

Seasonal or topical imagery will improve ad performance.

Olympics

+31% CTR

+0% CVR

Topical relevance will pique interest, but users are smart

Test #4

Logo

Hypothesis

Opening the video with text
will catch the viewer's attention.

Text Intro

+0% CTR

-37% CVR

Logo establishes the tone right away, reflected on App Store

Test #5

Gameplay

Hypothesis

Focusing on the gameplay will yield better results than a story-driven ad.
